SINGLE SUBJECT STUDY OPTIONS

2017

St Mark's

A MORE RELAXING PACE...

Feel like you can't commit to a full course just yet? St Mark's offers selected individual subjects for study through Charles Sturt University, so you can choose to take it real slow. Each successful subject completion in the list below is creditable towards a Bachelor of Theology or a Graduate Diploma of Theology for eligible applicants. The subject can be completed online or on-campus.

Alternatively, you could attend a subject on-campus in Canberra as an auditor, where you will not be required to complete assessment tasks (and will therefore receive no credit towards other awards).

INTERESTED? You can discuss our flexible learning options in detail — just call 02 6272 6252 during office hours.

FLEXIBLE STUDY OPTIONS

AUDITING

Participate with no assessments

If you've always wanted to listen in on quality theological lectures but lack the time to finish assignments, then auditing is a great way to start your theological journey.

As an auditor, you get to participate in weekly lectures and class discussions as well as access St Mark's library resources. (A one-year membership worth $70 is included in the audit fee!) There are no entry requirements, and all lectures and classes are conducted in Canberra.

To enrol, see the back of this flyer for further details or call St Mark's on +612 6272 6252.

SINGLE SUBJECT STUDY

Full participation with credit

Single Subject Study gives you the flexibility and the credit, without the commitment of a full degree.

As a student, you get to access all subject materials and resources and gain access to CSU's Interact2 learning environment - so you can choose campus life, or study online from the comfort of your natural environment.

Best of all, these subjects require no prerequisites, prior knowledge or experience.

To enrol, see the back of this flyer for further details or call CSU on 1800 334 733.

EVENING CLASSES

From 10 July | Tuesdays 5:30pm to 8:00pm

| SUBJECT | LECTURER |
|---|---|
| New religious movements, cults, and sects (THL242) | Dr Bernard Doherty |
| This subject gives a great overview of the beliefs and characteristics of various new religious movements, cults and sects. It also explores major religious, social, legal and ethical issues raised by the presence of such groups within the Australian context.In particular, this subject examines responses to new religious movements, cults and sects from churches, the media and government, welfare and police agencies. | |

From 10 July | Wednesdays 5:30pm to 8:00pm

| SUBJECT | LECTURER |
|---|---|
| Introduction to Biblical Languages (THL100) | Rev'd Dr Jeanette Mathews |
| This subject introduces students to rudimentary features of Biblical Hebrew and New Testament Greek. It acquaints students with the alphabets of both Hebrew and Greek, familiarises them with basic grammatical features of both languages, and facilitates the learning of elementary vocabulary.You will get to learn the range of grammatical and lexical tools available to support the use of scholarly resources based on Biblical Hebrew and New Testament Greek. It also raises your awareness of interpretive implications arising from cultural dimensions of biblical texts preserved in ancient languages. | |

DAYTIME CLASSES

We offer other subjects for auditing and single subject study Tuesdays to Thursdays, usually in the mornings from 9:00am to 12:30pm. These are available on-campus in Canberra, subject to conditions.

- THL120: Practical Theology (Tuesday mornings)
- THL106: Introduction to New Testament Studies (Wednesday mornings)
- THL113: Being the Church (Thursday mornings)
- THL132: European Reformations, 1400–1700 (Thursday mornings)

For more information about these subjects, visit our website. To enrol, you can refer to the back of this flyer for further details.

ENROLMENT PROCESS

ENROLLING AS AN AUDITOR
Fee: $240

To enrol, simply visit stmarks.edu.au and follow the prompts on the homepage to get to the enrolment form. Alternatively, you can call our office during business hours and we can do the enrolment over the phone.

ENROLLING FOR SINGLE SUBJECT STUDY
Fee: $1,030

To enrol,

- Follow the steps on CSU's Single Subject Study web page to enrol. http://futurestudents.csu.edu.au/study-options/single-subject
